While Kathy Deitrick gives David Stetcher a hair style, David expresses a look of interest as Kristi Neeble entertains him.

2. Husky mascot Dave Redd boogis down to the beat of the cymbals at one of the season's basket basketball games.

3. Cathy White, a sophomore cheerleader, models her new outfit given to her by the varsity cheerleaders.

4. Mr. Ludwig frantically finishes his morning coffee hoping it will help him make it through the rest of the day peacefully.

5. Ms. Axtelle has found a sure-fired way to keep her foot out of her mouth!

6. Senior Geri Verfurth practices smiling for a possible Close-up commercial.

 Mr. Drummond adds another piece of debris to the already roaring bonfire to boost spirit for the upcoming football game against Roosevelt.

Feet, feet feet! Wherever you go there are feet. There are two thousand one hundred and twelve feet in Hoover High School. There are fat feet, cute feet, corny feet, bunion feet, boring feet, and broken feet.
The list goes on and on, just like the list of our own personal feats.

One of our few fall pep assemblies finds that Hoover has rediscovered their long-lost spirit.

 Seniors Gail Bondesson, Amy Blenderman, and Linda Anderson try to show their "leadership" to Mr. Durand, their yearbook adviser, in Journalism.

3. Seniors DeAnn Nielson and Bobbie Russie casually put their best "feats" forward in Mr. Craft's ASP English class.

Everyone at Hoover has at least one feat if not a pair. Two of the most common feats at Hoover are to get up, make it to school each day, and graduate with the class. The other is to study all night, take tests all day and graduate in the upper ten percent of the class. Some students have feats in sports, social life and every day

- Junior Dana Wilson stands in a awe at what she is witnessing in the student center.
 - 2. A spirited Huskie mascot, Amy Blenderman, can't seem to resist showing off that "ham-it-up" smile.
 - 3. In biology class Tammy Anderson whistles at what she saw under the microscope, and which Marcy Crose seems to gave her eyes glued to.
 - A hungry Scott Barton impatiently waits for his munchies from our newly installed vending machines in the student center.
 - 5. Senior Jim Cunningham enjoys improvising on a set of drums temporarily borrowed from one of the band members.
- Senior Jeff Payne can't believe what he's hearing as he tries to hide his surprise.
- Principal Gerald Dockum finds that in a popcorn pinch fingers make fine substitutes.

Hoover High School has always been famous for having a lot of "feats" to put forward. Sizeable leaps in scholastic and athletic achievements have always been abundent in Hoover's past. However, achievements and feats are being made here everyday. They may not be that noticeable or dynamic as others but just the same they are our feats of accomplishments.

- 1. 1979 Homecoming found Caroline Zahler and Rhonda Downard walking away with the prize for the car rally.
- 2. Juniors Michelle Bales and Heather Wacha put their best feats forward after winning a swim meet against Valley.
 - 3. Tuija Kalio, Lisa Laurenzo, Julie Nauman, Suzanne Paca, Vicki Nauman and Barbie Linford show much appreciation to Mr. Wilkerson and the Art dept. for their gift, displaying the swim team's motto.
- 4. Seniors Sharon Iverson and Jerry Olson smile royaly after being crowned 1979 Homecoming Queen and King.
- 5. Coach Howard Justice delivers a pep talk at the bonfire-the first in ? years.

A goal to accomplish for some people could be no more than:
Passing one of Mr. Crafts vocabulary tests, not being caught skipping by Mr.
Wells, graduating, getting your locker open, having a chance to study with the love of your dreams, getting to the bathroom after the zipper has broken, staying awake in government.

These feats are being accomplished by students at Hoover everyday.

- Junior Linda Weissinger smiles coyly at a fellow band member who's been eyeing her for the past ten minutes.
- 2. Art student Chris Wigg concentrates on smoothing his art work to perfection.
- 3. Junior Jim Taggert and other band members work early one Saturday morning in order to get "burly". Actually their goal is new band uniforms in '79'
 - 4. Junior Paul Bruce wonders how he ever got stuck playing the drums on such a cold night.
- Seniors Tim Hager and Steve Sampel have their own unique way of putting their best "feats" forward.
- 6. The Hoover-Roosevelt rivalry seems to bring out the best ... or should we say the worst, in Hoover students.

Putting our best feats forward is not only putting one foot in front of the other. There's a lot more to it than that. "Feat" is an achievement. A noble act or performance, as one displaying a skill. Everyone has the ability to accomplish some sort of feat. When someone strives for a certain goal, he is consequently using his ability to accomplish that goal. By putting our best feet forward we can achieve our goal.

1. Seniors Keith Bevan and Rich DePenning pitch in and help dig for the new Homecoming tree which is planted on the front lawn annually.

2. Laura Scorpiniti, Sue Wengert, and Sandy Thompson use their hot air to blow up balloons for half time entertainment during the Homecoming game.

3. "Should I vote for my own gorgeous cake?" seems to be the question in Julie Nauman's mind as she votes at the annual Homecoming cake-off.

4. Seniors Geri Verfurth and Terry McCabe put their Artistic "feats" to work on Homecoming '78 posters.

5 Seniors Jill Goettsch and Ellen Adair listen intently as Bobbie Russie expresses the enthusiasm over Mr. Craft's ASP class.

6. A familiar situation is found in the student center almost everyday when students are forced to cram for unexpected tests.

- 2. Junior Kari Reed seems to have mixed emotions about what is being served for lunch in the Hoover cafeteria.
- 3. Senior Kathy Brooks seems tickled to death that she's getting her picture taken by a school photographer.
- 4. Senior Greg Honnold grimaces with pain at his new-found injury. (We know you just didn't know the routine for halftime, Greg).
- 5. Tommie Fry, Sharon Iverson, Kathy Diment, Tracy Parks and Brenda Belcher display their "feats" as being the no. 1 Cross Country team in the metro.
 - Hoover tuba players do their own thing high upon the bleachers during one of the seasons football games.

Sophomores Carolyne Frey and Joni Polson aren't quite sure what is expected of them when they attend their first Hoover open house.

2. Hoover band members enthusiastically participate in the early morning practices that prevail during the football season.

- 1. A forgotten sign is left posted on the cafeteria window from a previous activity, but Hoover students don't seem to mind.
- 2. Junior Paula Yost seems to be half way contented to chew on her pencil while Vicki Hansen takes advantage of her thumb.
- 3. Ready for a long day at school, a sleepy Julie Peterson gets the day started with a big yawn.

Shaved heads, secret fans are fads at Hoover

What were some fo the "fads and fashions" at Hoover in 1979? Well, found on many girls this year were "Candie" shoes. below the knee dresses, and towards warmer weather, more revealing cotton dresses with slits up the thigh. Again DAV clothes were big on both guys and girls. An unusual fad this year started by the Men's swim team was the shaving of heads. On the girl's heads the fashion was permanents, both tight and loose. "Secret fans" a fad started by the Varsity cheerleaders became a big success for both basketball and swimming teams. Disco went beyond all limits and became one of the favorite themes for Hoover Open Houses.

- 2. Semor Lisa Hill models her prized fashions bought at the DAV store
- I Sue Wengert Julie Hunt and Sandy thompson exhibit some of the more popular clothes worm in 79

- 1. Senior Beth Lehocz dresses in her best clothes for the last day of school.
- 2. Shaved heads become a fastrising fad at Hoover in the early spring.
- 3. Sophomore Renee Purdue seems to be content with her tight perm, as do other Hoover students.
- 4. Comfortable clothes seem to be what matters to senior Bobbie Russie.
- 5. Hats are a big thing to band members as they try to wear the most original creations.

- Hoover students enjoy the warmth of the sun on a Hawaii' beach
 - 2. A swim in the pacific off an Hawaiin beach is a first for many Hoover students
 - 3. Shorts and T-shirts are the main attire for band members during the early morning practices
 - 4. Band members practice for the big day when they march in the King Kamehameha day parade.

Hoover High school band members venture to Hawaii for a fun-filled week of long awaited relaxation. After a year full of selling M&M's, collecting newspapers, and other various fund-raising activities, the students are finally ready to go. Once to Hawaii, the band members have early morning practice for the first three days. The remainder of the days are spent touring the city, other islands, and just relaxing on the beach. Highlights of the trip include a "luau" on the beach, a tour of the city, the "circle island tour", and of course the five mile long parade, which was the main event for the Hoover

Hoover band ventures to Hawaii; June 5-13

- 1. Hoover High school's band proudly marches in Honolulu during the King Kamehameha day parade.
- 2. Flag twirlers and band members don't seem to mind the early morning practices when in Hawaii.
- 3. In a different environment among palm trees, band members are a bit more enthusiastic about practice.
- 4. Junior Lisa Brubaker listens as a fellow band member explains her opinion of the males to be found in Hawaii.

Homecoming '78 sparks spirit and enthusiasm

As the greens of summer turn to the golden amber colors of autumn, students faculty and everyone involved with the coming school year, anxiously come again to Hoover. Fall teams all over school begin to ready themselves for competition, through the hard work, rigorous practice and dedication that has become a well preserved tradition at Hoover.

Though the same thing happens every year, the spirit and enthusiasm seems brand new. The long awaited sports season finally begins. The crisp fall air entices interest to the football field where the Huskies win their first three games and reach the top ten for the first time in the school's history. The team is met with a stiff challenge on the game to be Hoover's Homecoming.

- Football coach, Howard Justice, can't resist a peak at the camera to show off his confident, "I-know-we'll-kill-'em" smile.
- Brian Aldrich takes one last look around to make sure no one (besides conspirator Tom Baker) is watching before they sneakily down a cake-off entry.
- The newly crowned Homecoming Queen, Sharon Iverson, and King, Jerry Olson, beam proudly amidst their subjects.
- 8. Two of the football team captains, Richard DePenning and Mark Kimble, deliver inspiring speeches to Hoover as part of a pep assembly before the Hoover-East game.

Putting up a great fight, our men nearly scalp the East High Scarlets, but lose a heartbreaker 17 - 14. The loss is felt by everyone, but with spirit still high Hoover participates enthusiastically in the planned Homecoming festivities. One whole week is occupied with spirit boosting activities. The big week begins with the planting of this year's Homecoming tree. The next day is filled with the aroma of the cake off. Students enter to show off their "Beat East" creations. This year's winners are Barb and Kathy Diment. After the contest the cakes are devoured by the football team and other athletic groups.

Friday brings the spirit breakfast for the fall teams. The fun includes swipes at the East player pinata and a breakfast of doughnuts and orange juice. Excitement peaks as the Queen, King and their court are announced at the Homecoming assembly Friday. Reigning this year are Sharon Iverson and Jerry Olson. The Royal Court is highlighted by sophomore attendants Laura Gaulke and Scott Richardson, junior attendants Brenda Belcher and Steve Doten, and the senior attendants, Nancy Van Hemert, Kirk Trow, Kathie Lenc, Richard DePenning, Mary Adkisson, Mark Kimble, Toni Brown, Mike Diment, Belinda Anderson, and Steve Sikkink.

Finally it is September 30, time for the dance. Many couples dance to the sounds of the group "Ecstasy" as they play the latest favorites. This year's theme was "Moments", the perfect word to use, because Homecoming '78, creates many unforgettable moments for everyone!

- Wrestling cheerleaders, Sandy Derby and Lisa Gaule and sophomore football cheerleader, Kathy Rogers, ready the food for the Spirit Breakfast which was sponsored by these two groups.
- Senior attendants, Jerry Olson and Toni Brown, approach the stage. Little does Jerry know that he will reign as 1978 Homecoming King!
- 7. Seniors, Suzanne Paca and Deann Nielsen, share a laugh over a cake-off entry before they cast their vote
- The lights in the auditorium dim the night of the Homecoming dance, as an expectant crowd waits for one last chance to see the Royalty.

- 1. The toss of the dice gains the attention of the eager gamblers.
- Nathan takes in Adelaides tale of marriage, kids, and promotions with an overwhelming interest.
- Big Jule isn't too pleased with the arrangement of the night's crap games.

"Guys and Dolls" invades Hoover stage

The Hoover stage was overtaken by crusaders, gamblers, a chorus line and ladies of the evening during the three night run of "Guys and Dolls". This musical, the first production of the 78-79 season, was directed by Miss Kathie Burg who is in her first year as the head of the theater department

The entertainment was plentiful as proved by the three successful performances to audiences of large numbers. "Guys and Dolls" is a comical love story with four lead roles. Nathan Detroit, the host of the weekly crap games, is the fiance of Adelaide the star of the hot box, who is getting fed up with their fourteen year engagement.

Then there is Sister Sarah Brown, "the mission doll" who accidentally falls for Sky Masterson, a gambler, that ends up trading in his markers for the mission drum. "Guys and Dolls" pulls through the musical tradition of a happy ending as wedding bells toll for all.

Rabbit lends itself to student directors

Have you ever seen a six foot pooka rabbit? If you saw the student directed production of Harvey and used a little imagination, you did.

After the years absence the student production returned to Hoover this year. Penny Burger and Beth Flansburg were chosen co-directors. Their efforts paid off as audiences rewarded them and their actors with enthusiastic laughter and applause. In turn they received a very entertaining evening.

Harvey is the story of Elwood P.
Dowd and his friend Harvey the invisible rabbit. Elwood's sister Veta and her daughter become humiliated by Elwood's "illusion" and attempt to have him commited. They take him to Chumleys Rest and a hilarious mix-up occurs as Veta is commited and Elwood is set free. A search follows and in the end Elwood convinces everyone that Harvey does indeed exist.

- mistreated Veta Louise is carefully helped into a chair by her loving daughter and loyal legal advisor.
- 2. After a tip of the bottle the maid, (Lisa Laurenzo) appears a little tipsy.
- 3. Mrs. Chumley assures Mr. Dowd that giving his friend a lift into town is no inconvenience.

A look at Thoreau from behind the curtain

Have you ventured out to veiw a Hoover theater production and thought about what went into the two hour presentation?" The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail" is an example of this. Tryouts were on January 17 and callbacks the following day. Competition fills the air as hopeful actors and actresses give it all they can, with hopes of being casted if even in a minor role. January 19 the cast list is posted. Disappointments and shreiks of joy fill the hopefuls. The trying era of rehearsal period begins. For director Mrs. Danielson this means spending every week night at school until around nine or ten p.m. For the cast it means memorizing lines and blocking without fail or else March 23 and 24 Thoreau opens on the Hoover stage. Audiences are captured as they watch the kind of Henry David Thoreau, a man punished for non-conformity to society. All involved are proud of their achievement. Finally the reward, enjoyment, applause, and the cast party.

Mrs. Danielson watches with a cricitcal eye as rehearsals are starting to wind up and opening night is closing in.

Younker's fire worst in years; claims ten lives

What happened in 1979 when I was in school at Hoover? Well, on the local front, Younkers of Merle Hay caught fire, claiming ten lives and producing widespread fame over the country. It was months before the final investigation revealed the cause of the fire and the last report seems to have been from a chemical leak. In the nation, the well known actor, John Wayne dies of cancer, leaving many famous movies and quotes behind him. The energy shortage is as severe as ever. People line up as gas stations all over the country just to purchase gas at an average of 95¢ per gallon. At the world level, two popes pass away and a new one is chosen from Poland. The world's first test tube baby is born which produces heated debate in many countries. It is a major medical break-through to some but a warning of what is to come to others. These are just a few of the multitude of current events that happened in 1979.

Students participate in Ski; UN group trips

13 juniors leave Des Moines for a nine-day sojourn to the nation's capital and one of the largest cities in the country. These students are selected by applications and scholastic abilities. Sponsor of the trip is the United Nations chapter of Des Moines. The students travel by bus to Washington D.C. for the first half and then on to New York City for the latter.

The Annual Ski Trip sponsored by biology teacher, Richard Moore, gets underway during Spring Break in late March. Their destiny this year is Winter Park, Colorado. Approximately one week is spent on the slopes while students enjoy the vacation from school. The YMCA of the Rockies houses them while they are there and buses are available to take them to and fro.

- 1. Director Richard Moore tromps back to the bus after a long day at the slopes.
- 2. Students gather around the bus to unload their ski equipment, readying for the slopes.

Once again, the Hoover High School traveling drama production is a success. Performing "I Love A Musical" for audiences ranging from elementary students to adult groups, the 14-person cast travels for April to May. Under the direction of Mrs. Kathie Danielson and assistant director Keith Bevan, the cast performs a collage of segments from a series of famous musicals. "I Love a Musical" offers thousands of viewers an opportunity to hear familiar songs, skits and laugh some too.

The play is separated into three themes, Love, Culture and Happiness. The experience is an unusual one for the cast members. "Usually a play is perormed two times," said Mrs. Danielson. However, in a traveling production such as this, the actors must give a performance 20-30 times." All of the hard work and traveling cross-town came to an end May 10-11 when the cast gives its last two performances in the Hoover High Auditorium, capping another fine theatre season.

Touring drama production and cast big success

Senior Board keep seniors busy with activities

The Senior Board, this year headed by Jon McKinley, Pres., Tricia Bergman, V.P., Beth Gaulke, Sec., and Cherilyn Deal, Treas., is the central organizer for the senior activities. Planning cap and gown measurements, Senior Banquet, Awards Assembly, Prom, Graduation, and fun activities for Seniors is their goal.

The money-making project is the sale of school directories where the Board made $200.00 Christmas dance is one of the more exciting activities with gaily decorated halls including a Christmas tree in the Student center and a jolly Santa giving out candycanes. $75.00 was made from this event. Senior Board is an excellent opportunity for Seniors to get involved in planning their final year at Hoover.

- 1. Chairpersons Rhonda Breeding and Bill Jackson welcome everyone to the Senior Awards Assembly.
- 2. Senior Lisa Laurenzo receives her award for swimming from Vice President Mr. Wells.
- 3. Senior Jon McKinley accepts a rose given to the 1979 graduating class from the faculty, presented by Mr. Ludwig.

Honor Students are numerous at Hoover

Hoover students don't need an Honor Roll this year as they win more awards than can be counted. Four top students qualify for the National Merit Scholarships. They are, Leann Griep, Tom Minear, Don Severs, and Debbie Staples. This achievement will open many doors for the finalists in scholarship possibilities. Also to be commended is the organization of Quill and Scroll, the International Honorary Journalism Society. This group consists of Kelly Sanner, Laura Scorpiniti, Larry Fish, Linda Anderson, Julie Nauman, Don Bland, and Amy Blenderman. Through hard work and determination, these people put out the quality paper Hoover's credited for. Also congratulations are in store for the winners of the Superintendent's Awards. These are outstanding students chosen from each academic area that have worked the hardest and proven their talents. The winners are: Jodi Kraft, Applied Arts, Kathy Lenc, Visual Arts, Jill Geottsch and Jodi Murphy, Band, Larry Lake, Drafting, Tom Ohnemus, Electricity/Electronics, Mike Diment, Mathematics, Tom Hudson, Orchestra, Tim Kerr, Science, Steve Crocker, Spanish, John Curtis, and Cindy Nelson, Vocal Music, Pat O'Keefe, Woodworking, Lisa Hill and Brett Jeffers, Physical Education, Lisa Laurenzo and Margaret Little, Social Science, Penny Burger, Theatre, Tom Minear, Forensics, Kim Nicodemus, General Business, Terri Lockard, Stenography, Condon McGlothlen, English, and Larry Fish, Journalism.

"Looks Like We Made It" at Senior Banquet '79

This years theme, "Looks Like We Made It," was an excellent choice to parallel with the realization of the closing of senior year. The Senior Banquet is held at Hyperion Field Club on March 19 at 7:30p.m. Chair persons Ellen Adair and Amy Blenderman present a program consisting of the wit of Dave Baker as M.C., Jon McKinley representing the past or "one of the 18 year olds who can't legally drink," Beth Roy as the present or senior who "doesn't move for the food service cart," and Mike Diment as the future who believes that "weekends should stay made for Michelob." The invocation was given by Tim Hager. Emotions were varied as Cindy Nelson and Carol Lauman finalized the banquet with the theme song. A note of sadness is felt as students realize that their last days at Hoover are drawing to a close.

But also a feeling of happiness is felt as students think of the coming year and the new experiences it will bring. As the students make their way out the door, they think of the other coming activities and reminesce on their past experiences. A common thought of a majority of students is: Time really does fly when you're having fun!

1. Seniors give a traditional pose as they all toast to their graduation and the good times shared at Hoover.

2. Dave Baker is the featured M.C. at the 1979 Senior Banquet held at Hyperion Field House.

 Randy Owen seems to be right in the spirit of things as he toasts to his graduation, which is just around the corner!

- 2. 1. Jon McKinley speaks of the past and of the changing of the drinking age, which effected nearly all seniors this year.
 - 2. The faculty listens attentively as the graduating seniors speak of their well-remembered days at Hoover.
 - 3. Kelly Sanner and Bryan Hall just can't believe that they have made it as they relax after the banquet.

Prom '79 proves to be huge success; memorable

The 1979 Prom gets underway on Saturday, May 26th at 8:00. The band Arion entertains the large crowd attending. The dance is held at the Olmstead Center, and after many hours of dedicated decorating, the room is transformed into a place of awe. "Looks Like We Made It" is the chosen theme and the statement in itself seems to stir excitement. Prom chairmen, Ramona Vannoy and Bev James do a fine job of coordinating the many activities that are involved with the making of a dance. Many memorablia is scattered throughout the rooms for the couples to take home with them and cherish forever.

2.Mike Diment and Tommie Fry are always among one of the first couples to get the ball rolling, even at Prom.

- 3. Couples enjoy dancing to the tunes put out by the band amidst the decorated room.
- 4. A rest from the festivities is always welcome to the students who wish to rest their feet.
- Those attending Prom have a chance to collect many mementoes plus the signing of the guest book.

3. 4 5.

Class of '79 proudly graduates 339 seniors

The big event is being held at 2. Veterans Auditorium Tuesday, May 29, 1979. A large crowd of parents, brothers and sisters, relatives of all kinds gather for the event. Three hundred and forty-four seniors receive their long awaited diploma as they graduate from 13 years of school. Dr. Ray Pugh, from Drake University is the featured speaker talking about the "Universe of Life". Nolden Gentry is on hand to distribute the diplomas to the graduating students. Mr. Greg Metge, English teacher and debate coach from Hoover is present to award the Humanitiarian award. This year's recipient is Ellen Adair. Although the Class of '79 is the smallest class to graduate from Hoover since it has been opened, it is made up in the quality put forth by the seniors.

1. Ellen Adiar leads the class as being the first to graduate, with Mary Akisson following.

2."It's about time they called my name", growls Larry Fish.

 - 2. Richard DePenning keeps up the ol' tradition of getting the sleeves of the gown caught on the stairs down.
 - 3. Steve Crocker seems exuberant and relieved that he is finally through with high school.

Hoover Band receives "1" rating at state contest

The 1978-79 award-winning Hoover Band, consisting of some 121 musicians, has a lot to look forward to in the remainder of the school year. Led by Drum Major Jerry Olson and under the direction of Ron Battani, the marching band has had one of the best seasons ever experienced by the organization. The group captured a "1" rating at the State Marching Contest held at Tama. Hoover was the only Des Moines school to receive a "1" rating. The Hoover Wind Ensemble will also strive for their annual "1" rating at the State Large Group Contest held at Ankeny on May 4. The group is trying for their ninth consecutive "1"

Hoover Jazz Band grabs class AA title

Jazz Band, although having an unusual year, took first place in the State Class AA competition again this year. This is the fourth consevutive year that Hoover has held the championship title. The band has many soloists that were recognized at various festivals this year. They were Doug Langbehn, Marty McDonald, Mark Millard, Steve Sampel, Craig Elliot, Russ Hellmer, Tim Hager and Jerry Olson. At the Iowa Jazz Championships, Hoover walks away with two of the four outstanding soloists awards. These were presented to Doug Langbehen on piano and Russ Hellmer on saxophone. The Hoover Jazz Band does a fine job of keeping up the no. "1" rating and establishing the name of Hoover at all state competitions.

Five choirs fill the air with beautiful music

It is a busy, sucessful year for the Hoover Vocal Music Department. At the beginning of the school year, students work on the music selected by the Iowa High School Music Association for the All State Chorus. Cindy Nelson, John Curtis, Mary Sanderson, Marty Plummer and Shelley Shaw are chosen to perform in November with the select choir in the All State Music Festival held at the Hilton Colliseum in Ames. The high point was performing at a huge convention at the Hotel Fort Des Moines and receiving a spontaneous standing ovation. Another highlight of the year is the presentation of "Amahl and the Night Visitors". The students work hard and the finished product proves it to the audiences.

Debate establishes name of Hoover at nat'l levels

The Hoover Forensic teams this year have done an outstanding job in representing Hoover not only in the state but across the nation. Top debators Condon McGlothlen, Tom Minear. Maggie Little, and Beth Roy have won numerous invitationals and tournaments to be named among the top speakers in the nation. The resolution being debated this year states: The Federal Government should establish a comprehensive program to significantly increase the energy independence of the U.S.

Much time and research is needed for the number one performances the Hoover Forensic teams bring home. The debators have won every lowa tournament with the exception of one, placed first in Little National's and became the top debate team in the state. On the national level the debate team competed in the two largest tournaments held in the country. At the second largest tournament, held at Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia Hoover grabbed third place. The largest tournament this year was located at Northwest University in Illinois and Hoover's debate team captured the first place standing. Throughout the season the group brings home well over a hundred trophies, awards and honors. Mr. Metge, debate team coach, claims that this year is the best Hoover has ever had since debate began. This excellent group of students have done a fine job of representing Hoover and establishing the name of lowa at all the national tournaments.

The 1979 Husky, under the direction of co-editors. Linda Anderson and Amy Blenderman gets underway in early August. The two editors attend lowa State University for a week during the summer to learn more about the making of a yearbook. Advisor Dave Durand proves to be an excellent asset to the staff in helping with theme and format. Two classes are needed this year to accomodate the many students interested in the Husky. Coeditor Linda Anderson comments, "The people on the staff this year are a lot of fun to work with. The enthusiasm is never-ending." Head photographer Don Bland has a lot to keep him busy throughout the year. Without the assistance of photographers Russ Hellmer, John Sellers, Amy Blenderman and Reggie Morrow the yearbook couldn't exist.

"Leave it to Beaver" interview highlights year

The Challenger Staff changes their format for the 78-79 year, going from a newsmagazine published monthly, to a newspaper published every three weeks. "The reason for the change," said Editor, Larry Fish, "is that we have exhausted many of our ideas and need something new." Several staff members return, including; Rhiannon Chastain, Wes Albin, Kelly Sanner, Laura Scorpiniti, and Sheri Trhane. Seniors Rick Kail, Jeff Kane and Larry Roan are rookie reporters, but shared up the sports department. The biggest article of the year is an interview with former TV stars Jerry Mathers and Tony Dow in Kansas City. The interview with the former stars of "Leave it to Beaver" proves to be of great interest to Challenger readers. Despite some organizational problems, the staff pulls together and puts out some good issues. "We like to stir people up a bit too, with our articles," says Fish.

"I wonder if he's bluffing?" says Wes Albin as he relieves the boredom of a slow news day by palying cards.

Student Council pursues machinery of government

This year's Student Council proves to be one of the best Hoover has ever had. With high attendance at all the meetings, much is accomplished and there is more student involvement by everyone. First semester begins with Hoover students showing off their enthusiasm in a "never been tried before" way; a bonfire in the west parking lot before the Hoover-Valley game. In a Pizza-It contest for Epilepsy, Hoover comes up with the two top pizza-eaters for the Metro schools: Richard DePenning and Dave Nelson. High on the list of accomplishments is the Salvation Army Bell Ringing in which Hoover captures the title of collecting the most money the second year in a row with over $700. Student Council literally gets into the machinery of government this year by buying a Radio Shack TRX-80 computer for the math department and the use of the student body ... As a "change" of pace, a chance machine is bought to go in the office along with vending machines to replace the traditional concession stand. Second semester gets off to a fast start with a Hot-dog dinner before the Hoover-Lincoln game. Proceeds go to our Student Council and profits totaled $153. Before the second semester Student Council election, an assembly is held in the gym to give the students a better understanding of the views of the candidates. Senator Dave Readinger is the speaker at this event along with retiring President Keith Bevan. Senator Readinger stressed the importance of getting involved in school activities and organizations. The students stand triumphant again this year against the faculty 48-44 in the annual Student-Faculty basketball game. The students were led by Coach Kirk Trow, and the faculty by Coach Dockum. Better luck next year faculty!

Cheerleaders, 'Secret Fans' ignite Husky spirit

The cheerleaders, under the new direction of Mrs. Sally Cotten and Miss Connie Pappas do a lot to boost school spirit this year. The varsity basketball cheerleaders put their best "FEATS" forward by initiating "Secret Super Fans" for all the boy's varsity players.

The "Fans" send anonymous letters and compose posters to help fire up the players. This is an added incenitive for student involvement and it helps to fireup the teams as well as the fans. Mascots this fall are Amy Blenderman and Jolene Eide. with the winter sports being represented by Nancy Gronert and Mike Bland, Senior Karen Mathew is chosen captain for football and Kathie Lenc being elected captain for basketball. Posters abound before athletic events and ribbon sales help to bring about a successful year both financially and in spirit. Mr.

Jerry Gay, sponsor for wrestling cheerleaders, helps them with their many planned activities throughout the season. The seven cheerleaders chosen venture to ISU for a week to attend a cheerleading clinic held there. Sandy Derby is chosen as their captain. Four girls were selected to be the swimming cheerleaders. Mr. Dave Linder is the sponsor for this squad. Rhonda Breeding took on the job as being the captain of the four. The cheerleading clinic held in the spring of each year attracts many willing and enthusiastic girls and guys. With the aid of the varsity cheerleaders students learn the different cheers and jumps that are involved in cheering. They also learn that cheering isn't all fun and games contrary to popular belief. It is a sport like any other at Hoover demanding practice and dedication throughout the entire season.

Under the leadership of Miss Connie Pappas and Mrs. Sally Cotten, the sophomore cheerleaders once again bungle their way through another successful season. The girls do a fine job of "motivating" school spirit by making posters and having bake sales. Julie Millard is chosen as captain of the football squad while Paula Yost and Jill Mackey share the title as co-captains of the basketball squad. Judging by the records of the sophomore football and sophomore basketball teams the girls seem to have done a good job of keeping both the audience and the players fired up!

Timers Club is a group of girls who are interested in supporting the guys swimmers and putting their best feats forward by recording reliable times, and also by the many little extra things they do to help the guys pull off victories. They make posters, write fire-up notes, decorate locker rooms, T-P, and give the moral support all swimmers need to keep their mental attitudes. This year they have succeeded in watching their boys to a 27-1 season, their only loss being to Valley.

Hooverites, Twirlers, Flag Corp, liven up half time.

The Hooverite drill team underwent a few changes this year. Aside from no longer being with the band, the Hooverites change their image meaning getting rid of the rifles and bringing in the pom-poms. This years officers are as follows: Captain; Tami Sandquist, Senior Rep; Vicki Manning, Junior Rep; Sara De Cook, Sophmore Rep; Julie Ausan, and Sponsor Mr. Tom Ludwig, lead the Hooverites in many activities. including helping with the Special Olympics. During the football season you could pick out the Flag Corp and the Twirlers on the field. The Flag Corp outfitted with huge flags that wave in the wind and the glittering outfits of the Twirlers that sparkle in the flood lights put on quite a show for the Hoover fans. An added attraction with the Twirlers is the performance of fire with the batons. Seniors Ramona Vannoy and Geri Verfurth along with Junior Cheryl Marshall put in many long hours practicing for the show. Senior Captains Cherilyn Deal and Mindy Richardson do a fine job in coordinating the two groups throughout the year.

Huskies win first three; gain state rating

This year's varsity football team jumped off to their best start ever with three straight wins over Indianola, North, and Tech. The wins vaulted the Huskies to the number ten spot on the Register's top ten teams. The East game was, in the opinion of Coach Justice, the turning point of the season. Coach Justice notes: "The East game was a crucial one for us. Had we won it, I believe that we would have had a seven-two season, losing only to Roosevelt and Dowling. The boys were really mentally down during these games." Tee win over Lincoln brought the Huskies out of their slump, but injuries sidelined starters Dave Applegate, Richard DePenning, and Jeff Payne and didn't help the Huskie cause down the stretch. The team is, according to Coach Justice, a winning one despite the four-five win-loss record. He views this season as a good step foreward.

Brian Aldrich, Dave Applegate,
Dave Nelson, Blair Springer,
Richard DePenning and Luke
Ginn receive All Metro honors.
Coach Justice comments on the progress of this year. "I believe that we have made a lot of achievements this year. We tied and set many individual records as well as having these six players make the All Metro teams."

Gridders go 4-5 in record year; six honored

There were a total of six records set and two tied by this years football team. Carl Strother set a new total passing yards record ending up fifth in the state. Dave Nelson also placed fifth in the state with a new pass receiving record. He also tied the number of total successful points after the touchdown. Other Huskie records came from: Gale Perrin on the punt return, Rich DePenning for the most points scored for one season, Kent Sloan for his number of quarter back sacks, and Dave Applegate for the most interceptions for one season. Next year, as coach Justice points out, promises to

Girls Distance runners boost undefeated record

This year's girls distance runners dominate the Metro Conference. They finish the season with an unprecedented fourth consecutive Conference title after boosting an undefeated dual meet record to 47-0-2. Other honors include a District crown and a ninth place finish in the state meet. Senior Captain Sharon Iverson and sophomore Tracy Parks lead the team with one-two finishes in both the Metro and District meets. Juniors Kathy Diment and Brenda Belcher along with senior Tommie Fry add strong depth to the varsity. Sophomore Jacque Utterback and seniors Deanna Carter and Renee Dryg lead the junior varsity to a 9-0-1 season record and Metro championship.

Harriers gain experience; finish 4th in Metro

This year's boys' cross country team finishes the season with a 2-3 dual meet record and an 11-3-4-6-4 invitational string, which includes a third place finish in the Hoover Invitational. Senior Captain Dave Record is named the Outstanding Runner while senior Tim Hager is awarded the Most Improved Runner. Senior Jerry Olson, junior Tim Brown, senior Tim Hager, and sophomore Cam Moran are among the other strong team members who lead the team to a fourth place finish in both the Metro Conference and District meets. After a strong showing the in District meet, the team advances to state where they finish in sixteenth place. The Hoover Marlins Swim Team, has a tough, sometimes disappointing, but rewarding season, Many team records are broken during the course of the two months, the 200 IM and 100 Backstroke by Tuija Kallio, a foreign exchange student from Finland being two of them. Freshman Vickie Nauman also breaks the 50 Backstroke school record. "The girls attitudes and performances in practice and especially at the Valley meet, were outstanding and much improved from last year." Coach Linder states. beaming proudly. The girls beat arch-rival Valley by a score of 91-81. The Marlins also finish 2nd behind Ames in the District meet, and 8th in State. At the annual awards banquet Tuija receives Highest Point Scorer and Outstanding Swimmer. Sophomore Sheri Watson receives Most Improved. Teamelected Tri-Captains are Kathie Lenc, Lisa Laurenzo and Julie Nauman.

When asked what the highlight of the season was one swimmer stated, "Oh, I think Tuija, and psyching out Valley with me olemme numero (We're number one in Finnish.)

Girls prove promising; finish 3rd in metro

The Hoover volleyballers prove outstanding once again by compiling a winning dual meet record of 11-4 and finishing the season with a 20-8 record. Other honors racked up include a semifinal finish in the Fort Dodge Invitational, a second place finish in the Indianola Invitational, and a third place finish in the Metro Conference. Junior Captain Diane Erickson provides strong leadership for the team and dominates in serving while junior Cindy Isenhart leads the team in spikes. The team lacks seniority this year, however senior Cherilyn Deal provides a stabilizing influence for the young team. Coach Pam Hines is looking forward to another strong team next year when many regulars will return.

'Hellhounds' splash to 3rd place in Metro, District; 17th in State

The Men's Swimming and Diving Team finishes the season with a record of 7 wins and 1 loss to Valley. Five freshman/sophmore records were broken during the season. Dave Combs. a sophomore, breaks the 50 Freestyle record, 100 Freestyle record, and the 100 Freestyle split record in the 400 Free Relay, and Tom Nuesinger also breaks both the records for 6 and 11 dives. Junior Tim Brown also breaks the record in the 100 Butterfly. The Hellhounds move on to the Metro meet and finish 3rd with Tim Brown "smashing" into a first place finish in the 100 Backstroke which ended his career for the rest of the season with a broken

At the District meet Hoover again places 3rd with two first place finishes. Tom Neunsinger in diving, and Senior Jim Ward in the 100 Butterfly. Ten Qualifiers move on to State, Jim Ward finishes 6th and five others finish in the top 12. The team as a whole finishes 17th.

Feats accomplished with looks of determination

Faces. During any sport season the variety of expressions seen on the athletes faces are limitless. Looks of confidence, doubt, willingness, patience, strain and mostly determination cover the features that marks one's face. Unwilling to give up, Hoover athletes conquer the challenges and accomplish the feats with unending strength.

Coaches and athletes alike make up the winning teams Hoover produces and without a little gritting of teeth now and then, possibilities thought to be impossible become reality.

Weishaar leaves gymnasts after seven years

After seven years as Hoover's gymnastic coach, coach Penny Weishaar is hanging up her leotard to go back to school. "The decision to leave the team was a tough one," coach Weishaar says, "After all, I was coaching Hoover's gymnastic team even before I was teaching at Hoover!" This years team is lead by a fine group of five seniors, with outstanding contributions by sophomore Mel Brown. The honors of most improved go to junior Marla Touch, and sophomore Jaque Utterback. The team finishes with a dual meet record of 4 wins-6 losses, with their best meet being the Urbandale Invitational where they place fifth. This year is a year of development for the team. They begin the season with medium difficulty and end with perfecting superior difficulty skills. The team has an outstanding future ahead of them with the upcoming freshman talent.

Huskies parlay effort, teamwork to go 16-4

The 1978-79 edition of the boy's basketball team compiles a 16-4 season record and a number three state ranking. Three of those losses come at the hands of eventual state champion, Dowling. The other loss is a close one to Lincoln. The third loss to Dowling in district action ends the Huskie hope for another trip to the state tournament. Hoover takes the lead with a 35-32 score at one point but Dowling wins out in the end. 53-44.

The Huskies, led by Steve Sikkink, Larry Roan, Paul Shoemaker, Tom Aceto, and Tim Anderson surprise all with an unexpedtedly good season. When asked what he feels is the most important aspect of this team, Coach Adams replies, "I think that there are two major factors for the team's success, total effort and teamwork. Every time they go out there on the court they know that they have to give a total effort to win.

That's exactly what they do. Team work, I feel, is very important and these boys really click together. I'm proud of all of them. It's been a fun year." Three Huskies receive special honors. Senior Steve Sikkink, the captain of the team, finishes on the first All-Metro and second team All-Area. He also receives honorable mention All-State and honorable mention for the Iowa District Press Association All State. Tom Aceto, the team's leading scorer, finishes on the first team All Metro as well as All Area. He also receives special mention All State and honorable mention Iowa District Press Association All State. Tim Anderson finishes third team All City and receives honorable

1. mention All Area.

Teamwork proves Huskie strength

Larry Roan, known as the Hustler, and Paul Shoemaker, Big "D," also help the Huskie cause. Roan, who scores the most points in the district game against Dowling is according to Coach Adams, "a great defensive player and very hard working." Shoemaker, also a great defensive player, sets a new individual record for best percentage of free throws for one season with 87%. As Coach Adams points out, "he does a great job with not much recognition."

- Bert Adams, respected as one of the top coaches in the state, goes over strategy with his charges as assistant Jim Stark listens.
- Scrappy Larry Roan, known for his aggressive defense, proves he's equally adept at scoring as he gets his Tech man behind him.
- Junior Tim Anderson dumps in an easy layup while two ninth-rated Cedar Falls opponents watch helplessly.

2. Super sub' Ronnie Bradley skies high to secure a jump for Hoover in a victory over Roosevelt.

 Junior Tom Aceto goes high for two with one of his patented jumps that helped put him on the All Metro team.

Ronnie Bradley, the team's most improved junior, proves to be a welcome surprise for Coach Adams. The scrappy junior shows his basketball ability in the second game against Dowling, scoring 17 points, 12 of these come in a row. He finishes as the best sixth man in the state. Next year looks good for the Huskies with Aceto, Anderson and Bradley returning. The combination of these players with an undefeated sophomore team moving up, promises to be one of the best for Hoover.

Girls finish season strong; place second in Metro

The Girls Basketball team placed 2nd in metro with a 10-4 record. Leading the team in scoring was Jr. Cindy Isenhart. She averaged 29 points a game and was named to 2nd team Metro. Assisting Cindy were Srs. Carmen Cason and Kathy Morris, both were named to the Metro's Honorable Mention list. In the guard court, Mary Dettwiller averaged 6 rebounds a game and was selected to 1st. team Metro. Tracy Thomas was right behing her, leading in steals. Tracy was named to 2nd team Metro. Sophomore girls gain experience in rebuilding year

The girl's sophomore basketball team begins to rebuild its team with a new Coach, Mr. Jim Jordan and 22 sophomore girls who compile a 5-14 record. In the guard court, the three regular starters are Paula Smith, Jeannie Holloman and Kayla Kreigh. They do a good job of keeping the other teams from scoring. In the forward court, the regular starters are Renee Reynolds, Kerri Applegate and Dawn Ummell, These three share the duty of chalking up the points for the Huskies. The sophomores are looking forward to playing for Hoover's varsity team. Reynolds, Applegate, Holloman and Kreigh see limited duty for the varsity.

Young Husky grapplers hurt by injuries; go 2-9

Grapplers have a tough season due to numerous injuries, finishing with a 2-9 dual meet record. However there is a better outlook for next year as many young wrestlers gain experience in varsity action. Five athletes receive enough points in competition to enter the "1000 Point Club," which is a great achievement. They are: Gale Perrin, Mark Roter, Brad Mowrey, Scott Jay, and Mark Parkhurst. Most Valuable and Most Outstanding awards go to Gale Perrin, with an overall record of (12-9), and Brad Mowrey with a (14-6) season finish. In J.V. action the future looks promising, with a 6-5 dual meet record. Outstanding J. V. wrestler goes to O. J. Saunders.

Hoover boys finish 8-1 in Metro; 14-2 overall

The 1978-79 boys tennis team finishes 14-2 over-all. Led by senior Kirk Trow, the Huskies lose only to Roosevelt and Central of St. Joseph, Missouri. Other varsity players include: Greg Highsmith, Eric Fischer, Bob Peterson, Scott Richardson, Reg Morrow, Brian Hall, Scott Melton, Jeff Card and Lou Montuoro.

Hoover's big win is that against Valley. The boys really have to play tough, with Valley being such an equal match. Play tough they do, as Hoover wins seven while losing only two.

Freshman Bob Peterson finishes as the high point winner of the season. Peterson loses only four of twenty singles matches and four of sixteen doubles matches finishing with 530 points. Hoover's Greg Highsmith and Eric Fischer, the number two doubles pair on the team, win fourteen and lose four. The pair place first in the Hoover Invitational as well as the Valley Invitational Doubles Tournament. Kirk Trow and Bob Peterson place second in the District doubles competition, thus qualifying them for state competition. The pair lose, however, in first round action of the state tournament to the eventual state champs. Next year will be a building one for Hoover as five of the top nine players graduate.

The 1978-79 girl's tennis team finishes second in the Metro for one of the best seasons ever. The netters drop only one Metro meet, that being the 7-2 loss to powerful Roosevelt. The win over Valley, on the other hand, is the biggest win of the season. Seniors Sue Wengert and Barb Watson prove too much for the Tigers, winning the match 6-4, 4-6, 6-4 as well as the meet 5-4. Diane Erickson, the team's outstanding number five singles player, finishes without a loss in the Metro. The other undefeated position on the team is number four doubles. Cindy Peterson, Leslie Griep and Carole Fischer all contribute to this record. The doubles team of Kathy Morris and Julie Jennings drop only one match and that being the one to Roosevelt. Julie Nauman and Ann Heinzel, the number three doubles team also lose only to Roosevelt. Representing Hoover in sectional doubles competition will be Sue Wengert and Barb Watson and Kathy Morris and Julie Nauman. Both Julie Jennings and Diane Erickson will represent Hoover

Husky golfers overcome handicaps in rebuilding

The 1979 edition of the boy's golf team, boasting only three seniors, compiles a 2-5 dual meet record in the Metropolitan Conference and a 5-6 overall mark. Several underclassmen shine, so things look promising for 1980 and beyond for Coach Jim Stark.

Three seniors, better known for their deeds on the basketball court than on the fairway, lead the 1979 linksters. Paul Shoemaker leads the squad and garners medalist honors. Larry Roan and Steve Sikkink provide solid performances. Roan shoots a 76 to lead the golfers in sectionals where they place fifth out of seven teams. Junior Mark Amick will be the lone returning senior in 1980. Travis Rothmeyer, Rick James and Brian Spring should be strong returners for the Huskies.

2. These three sophomores aid Hoover's girl's golf team: (I-r) Kelly Reed, Carolyn Fry and Joni Paulson.

3. Senior Larry Roan shows the form that boosted him to a team-best 76 during sectional play.

One of the youngest girl's golf teams ever at Hoover rallies to post a 2-6 season dual meet record. Head coach Jim Stark not only has inexperience to contend with, but also only six girls try out for the team---a number he wishes would increase next year. The team is comprised of one junior and five sophomores. Sophomore Carolyn Fry captures medalist honors most of the season, winning a trophy for points accumulated during a postseason tournament. Sue Davis and Kelly Reed, also sophomores, push Fry for top honors. The remaining squad members are junior Julie Haluska and sophomores Julia Hunt and Joni Paulson. With all six of these girls returning and more linksters on the way, the future looks promising for the Husky girl's golf team.

- 1. Sophomore Julia Hunt's form off the tee is a factor in Hoover's rebuilding golf season. She is shown demonstrating the two essential elements for a good drive—the backswing (1) and the followthrough (2).
- 3. The team's only junior, who shows good promise as well as steady form is Julie Haluska who will return in 1980.

Track team young; quality shines through

This year's track squad is young, talented and hopeful. The seniors have been few in number, but their abilities make up for the lack of experience. Distance men such as Mike Diment, former cross country state champion, places first in many meets and Dave Record's running speaks for itself. With sprinters like Jerry Olson and Bret Jeffers, pole vaulter Pat O'Keefe, the seniors make a deep imprint on the '79 squad. Seniors provide leadership while young performers give the squad needed depth. Junior and sophomore sprinters Mike Wright, Randy Albee, Wendell Griffis, Bill Hiskey, Tyrone Black, Lane Riggle, Derek Lohner, and Shawn Hill contribute excellent speed and competitive spirit.

The distance men, Tim Brown, Stuart Sweeney and Cam Moran add a measure of endurance and strength. Pole vaulter. Pat O'Keefe finishes strong all season in the Metro and goes on to become Metro Champ. He wins the Metro meet with the winning jump of 13 feet. Bob Hickman in the pole vault and Brad Havran in the shot make Hoover's field events tough also. The Huskies 4x100 relay team competes at the Drake Relays, but fails to qualify for the finals. Diment competes in the 1600 meter run and leads for two laps, finishing a strong third against the state's premier milers. All in all Hoover's track team finishes with a record not to be ashamed of.

Young tracksters smash nine school records

This year's girl's track team is boosted along by strong sophomore talent. The young team captures fourth in the Metro Conference, second in their District, and goes on to finish an impressive nineteenth out of fourty-two teams in the state meet. Highlights of the season include an amazing nine broken school records and a first place finish in the Urbandale Invitational. Hoover's star distance runner Tracy Parks finishes an unprecedented second in the state meet 1,500 meter run, while the Husky's outstanding sprint medley relay team, consisting of Laura McNichols, Dena Clark, Peggy Williams, and Tracy Thomas, finishes in sixth place. Unfortunately, luck is against the Huskies in the distance medley relay, consisting of Williams, Clark, Thomas, and Marcy Crose, where they are disqualified for passing outside of the exchange zone.

Boy's tie for Metro!

The 1979 baseball team tied with Valley for the metro conference with a record of 10-4. The Huskies were led by pitcher Rick Grandquist who allowed an ERA of only 0.50 and added 112 strikeouts to the opponents records. Big bats were held by Luke Ginn with an average of .305, Jerry Olson with .285 and Jeff Paulson with .286. All metro honors were garnished by Rick Grandquist and Dave Nelson. Grandquist also received All Central Iowa recognition.

The 1979 girls' softball team comes up against many challanges during their season. Playing the 4 top-rated teams in the state plus plenty of tough inter-city competition makes the Huskies 11-19 season very respectable. The girls came up with wins against Nevada, Indianola, and a very much wanted defeat over the East High Scarlets. Sharing the pitching load are juniors Diane Erickson and Nancy Bryan with 2.76 and 3.28 ERA's respectively. Coach Bill Springer sees this year as a rebuilding year. With only one returning senior this year and the rest underclassmen the Huskies are looking forward to a very successful 1980 season.

Faculty ready themselves for oncoming freshmen

Hoover's administration and office staff provide the much needed support and guidance which makes the school run smoothly. Every person from the principal, Mr. Dockum who is responsible for establishing a budget and implementing change, to the secretaries who type and file. The administration is very supportive. They also participate in many school activities, help students solve many problems, and make many important decisions, From the principal to the secretaries they all put their best feats forward.

1. School Board I-r; James Cunningham, Ray Palis, President Karen Williams. Sup't. Dr. Dwight Davis, Betty Grundberg, Frank Hildreth, Nolden Gentry, Mrs. Jack Spevak, Ian Binnie.

As the freshmen enter the strange halls of Hoover, they will meet new people and overcome new obstacles. Many new teachers and classes will be added because of this change. This plan will better prepare students of the future, with an experience of high school at a younger age, and hopefully alleviate part of the problem caused by declining enrollment in the schools.

2. There is always a friendly smile on Mr. Dockum to greet the many students at Hoover.

The counselors play an important role in the lives of students. They help us make the many decisions that are needed later on in life. They also provide us with an excellente staff, headed by Mrs. Womack and Mrs. Eich, who put their best feats forward to help the many students with their projects.

Hoover P.E. participates in Jr. Superstars

Hoover's Physical Education Dept. is a very special one because of the many activities they provide us with all year round, and also the excellent staff who strive to make the health of students much better. One of the many special activities this year is titled Junior Superstars. Hoover is chosen to represent lowa because of our excellent physical fitness record. The winners are: Tim Brown, Tracy Parks, Daryl Woods, and Vickie Nauman. From here they venture on to regionals in Chicago, then to the Bahamas for the championship.

Drafting students excell in challenging projects

Many new and exciting things have happened this year to the many students who enrolled in Industrial Arts. Students were able to create interesting projects and then display them in Hoover's showcases. Mr. Tychsen the man behind all this gave students a chance to create and see what they can come up with. One of these projects was drafting. Students drafted a miniature model of a city. This model was set up in the student center for students and teachers to view.

2. Mr. Tychsen's drafting classes displayed some of their many projects in the Hoover display cases during the 1979 school year. Larry Lake displays his drafting project.

Hoover Math Department gains new computer

There aren't many occupations that do not require a skill of some sort. The math teachers here at Hoover work hard to motivate students in the different areas that they teach. All of the teachers work together discussing procedures they will follow while teaching a course. This may consist of comparing daily curriculums and making profitable changes. Other changes at Hoover involving the math department include the purchasing of a computer that is available to all students who wish to learn about it. A class was open to anyone interested second semester and there was hardly enough time in the day for everyone to have a chance to use it. Mr. Zimmerman, who has been in charge of the project, hopes to have enough money next year to add additional computers to the fast-growing popularity. There is a new face around the math dept. this year. He is Mr. Tim Grooters who has temporarily stepped in to replace Mr. Bushyager. Mr. Bushyager attended school in Colorado during the year to further his education in math.

Students enjoy activities put forth by teachers

This year's English teachers have brought great motivation out of their students by planning many competible contests, spelling tests, themes and publicity of winning stories in the Challenger. Poet lovers have the opportunity to listen to Mr. Robert Dana, a professional writer from Cornell College here in Iowa. Mr. Everett Craft joins the English teachers force by becoming the new A.S.P. instructor replacing Paul Bamford. Now confronting the teachers is the challenge of conquering the task put forth by the adoption of ninth graders into high school.

The Social Science teachers of Hoover are concerned with the quality of the courses they teach. Guest speakers, educational, yet popular films, and creative projects are just some of the ways they make the courses more tolerable. Mr. Branstad, while in his quest of Lt. Governor, spoke to Hoover students encouraging them to be more aware of what is happening in the political world. Other projects introduced prove to be helpful and rewarding.

Senior Cindy Nelson places second at state in Business Proofreading Spelling Contest qualifying her to go and OEA coordinator, Mrs. Jo Childs attends as the sponsor. Custodians work to keep halls; classrooms clean

In the Language department this year many dinners or "food fairs" are held with much student involvement. The teachers feel that this is one of many ways students can begin to understand the way the country about which they are studying, lives. Other things include actually touring the countries. Hoover has a fine staff of men who keep the halls, classrooms and grounds clean and in working order. Although their work isn't thought of as much as the teachers, it is still a major part of the system. Custodians-Ron Wilson, Boyd McCuley, Paul Swartztrauber, James Good, Howard Frazier, Bill Alexander, Henry Claytor-Head Custodian, Raymond Ogburn, Norman Virden, Richard Gordon.

The last of the young sophs enjoy high school life

We start at Hoover not knowing exactly what to expect. We find the list of activities we can participate in is almost infinite. From sports to academics, to just watching others. Part way into the year some sophomores are asked how they were putting their "Best Feats Forward" and what they thought of their first year at Hoover. "Making the basketball team, passing my classes. making more friends, getting my license, to be proud of what I have done this year, getting stronger as an athlete, and making it through high school".

The sophomores opinions of what Hoover is like vary. Some of them are: "It's freer, better than junior high and elementary, fun, everything I expected it to be, there are a lot of neat guys, you have to be involved to really enjoy it, too many cliques. were peons, and its great!" Remember, we may be the youngest class but we make Hoover what it is. There are many new and different things at high school. Open houses, more friends, candy machines. S.A.T.'s (which get us into some activities free,) and money seems to be spent much more easily.

Juniors aim high; conquer many challenges

The junior class of 1979 is definitely putting their best "feats" forward. Fourteen are accepted to go on the U.N. Trip, where they tour New York City and Washington D.C. At the same time many juniors are trying out their skiing ability on the Ski Club trip to Colorado. In scholastic achievement. 19 juniors are National Merit Scholars, more than any past year at Hoover. Doug Langbehn and Russ Hellmer take two of the four, State Jazz Soloists Awards, as highlights to Hoover's first place finish. The junior year is seen as a year full of decisions. Whether to go to college or to work are just a few of the alternatives faced by the coming seniors. The curriculum for juniors is as varied as the types of students who take them. Some juniors opt for college-oriented courses such as chemistry and advanced composition while others decide to take part in more careerbound courses like Distributive Education and Office Education. A few juniors enroll in the Executive Intern program which will allow them to work alongside business executives. Whatever path is chosen, their senior year promises to be a challenge.

Seniors look forward to future; have high hopes

Reading, writing, and arithmetic are the feats students accomplish in grade school. As seniors move into their last year of high school the three R's turn into cars, calculus and dates. What feats are next after graduation from high school? But what is on most minds of seniors is the fact that they are finished with school and are finally on their own. But soon after graduation they slowly float back down to reality and face the concrete fact of what to do with their future. Most seniors spend their senior year preparing for the oncoming year. Whether it be landing a promising job, heading on to college, or even marriage the decisions are crucial just the same. Senior year at Hoover is filled with happiness yet sadness. We are finally the oldest of the school and have all the priorities and advantages. We've waited for this all our lives and it's finally here. But what also is here is the inevitable separation from lifelong friends. It is finally time to say good-bye to friends who have made high school days what they are all about. Whether it be walking down a hallway or sitting in class, in those moments memories are captured and treasured forever.

Going to McDonald's" is almost as much a part of school as going to class. You've made us the place to meet, to talk, to have a good time, to celebrate your victories and help forget defeats. You've made McDonald's more than just another place to eat. And that's why, at McDonald's, we do it all for you.

P.S. Some of our best friends are Huskies!
